This is G.A.R. These pages unfold its story. A stranger may see just a random selection of pictures; but to a student, a teacher or an alumnus of G.A.R. these pictures evoke moods and memories. Herein is the pattern, the everyday way in which things happen at G.A.R.

 Dave Zipko*

G.A.R. is on top of a hill which many students have to climb to get to school each morning. Others taking a downhill route puff just the same. Any way one travels, getting to school is an ordeal. There are many thoughts that run through these young minds and many situations that the G.A.R. pupil can eye-up en route. The thoughts vary from individual to individual . . . "I shoulda studied — I'm gonna flunk," "That movie was cool; Paul Newman is wild," "I wish I could go out with her, ummm."

The scenery is usually the same. But this year, surrounding the building there have been tons of machinery tearing apart the streets. There has been constant noise and much rubble scattered about. There are other sights too . . . other kids, school buses, high styles, occasional snow, confused drivers trying to make their way through the obstacle courses created by men and machinery, and, here and there, the names of blissful lovers engraved forever in stone.

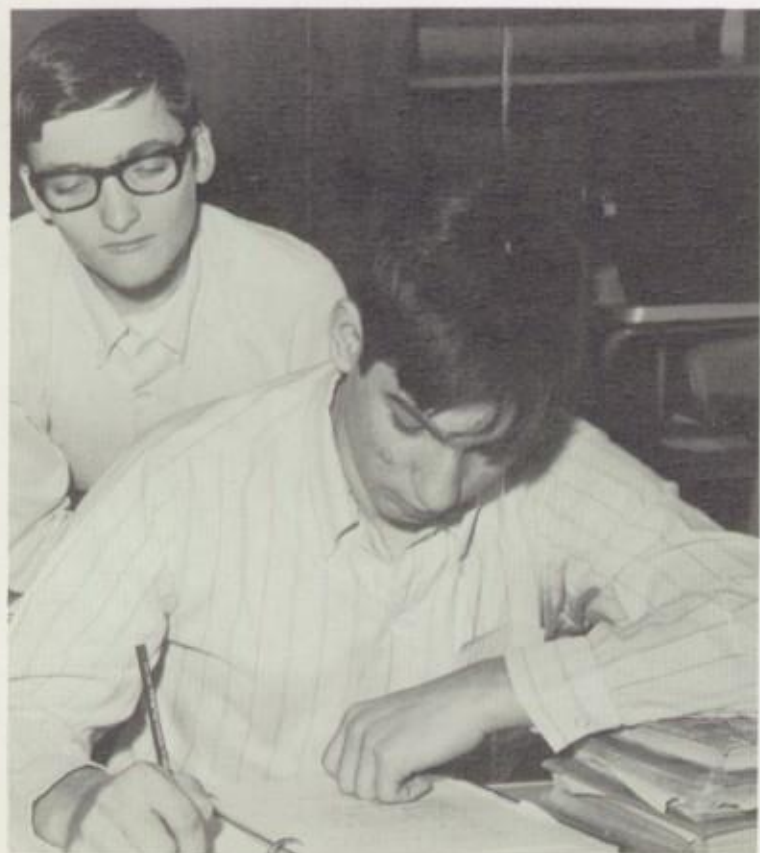

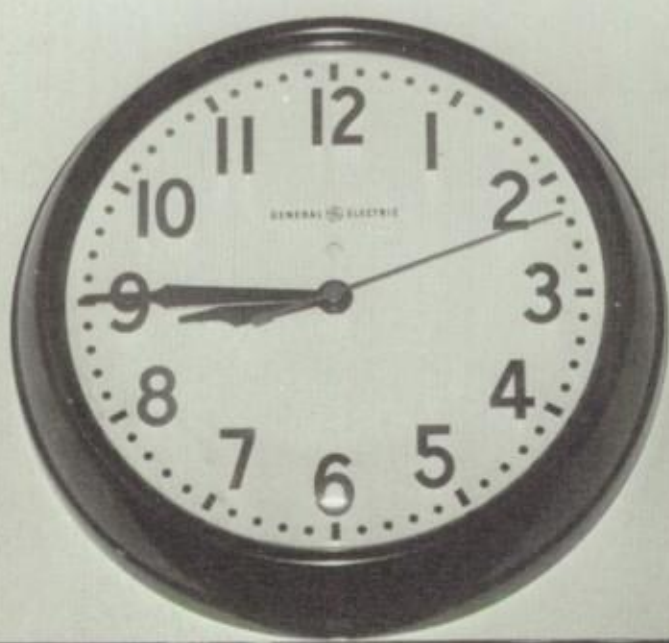

The early morning turbulence usually wakes up G.A.R.'s loyal sons and daughters. But there are exceptions . . . some yawn and catch a few extra winks right up to the 8:45 bell. There are others who work hard during home room time before classes begin. Many catch up by copying homework or even doing it themselves. There are those who get prepared for the day by combing hair and applying mascara. All participate in morning exercises, the pledge of allegiance, a moment of silent meditation, and an inspirational reading.

After that, if the teacher is permissive, it's talk, talk, talk to get caught up with the news of the school.

At a quarter to nine there is a noise often called "the bell" which starts off the long day. Oh, Monday, Monday . . . Getting to class, it's like a subway rush. G.A.R.'s layers of balconies and upper floor bottlenecks are just plain overcrowded when the periods change. So many faces, so many expressions, and only one ambition: "I gotta get there."

Absolute quiet is rare at G.A.R. There is emptiness, but hardly ever complete silence. Noise personifies this school and it is spooky to walk into a classroom without people, without life, without sound.

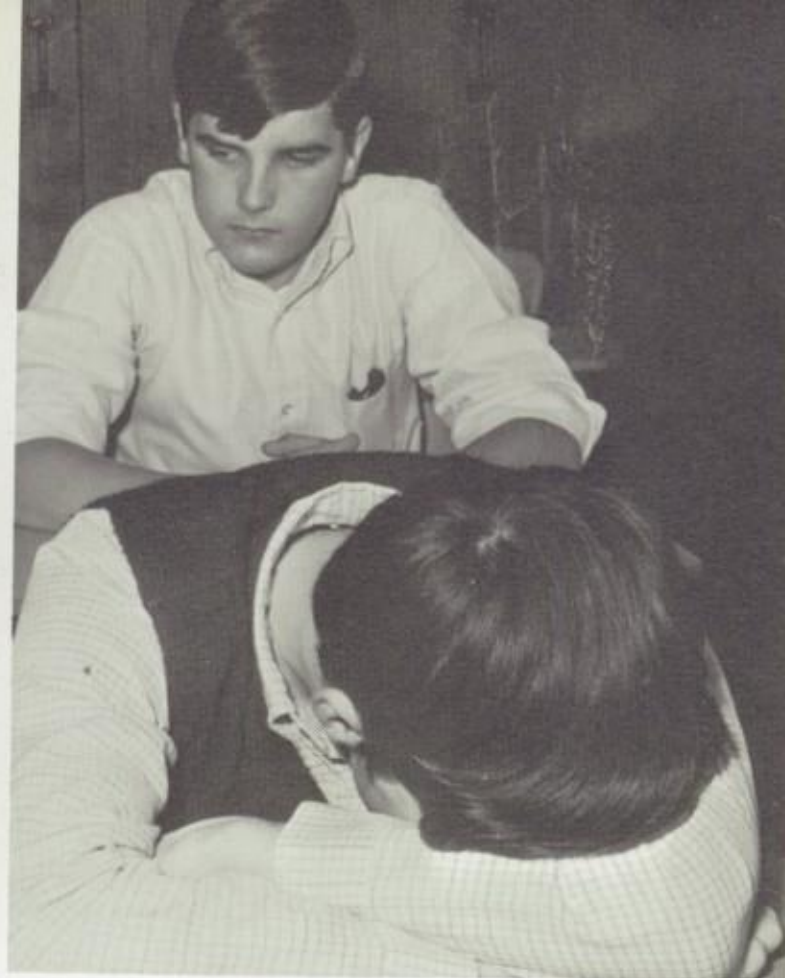

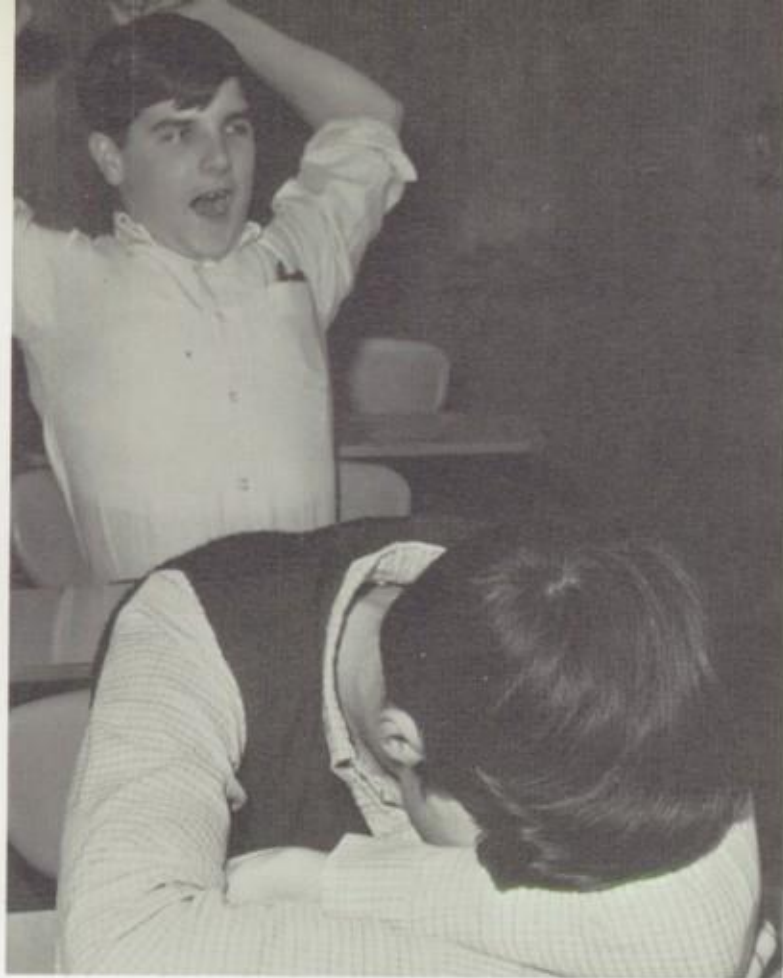

○ this learning,
what a thing it is!
The Taming of the Shrew

the 302 ZOO

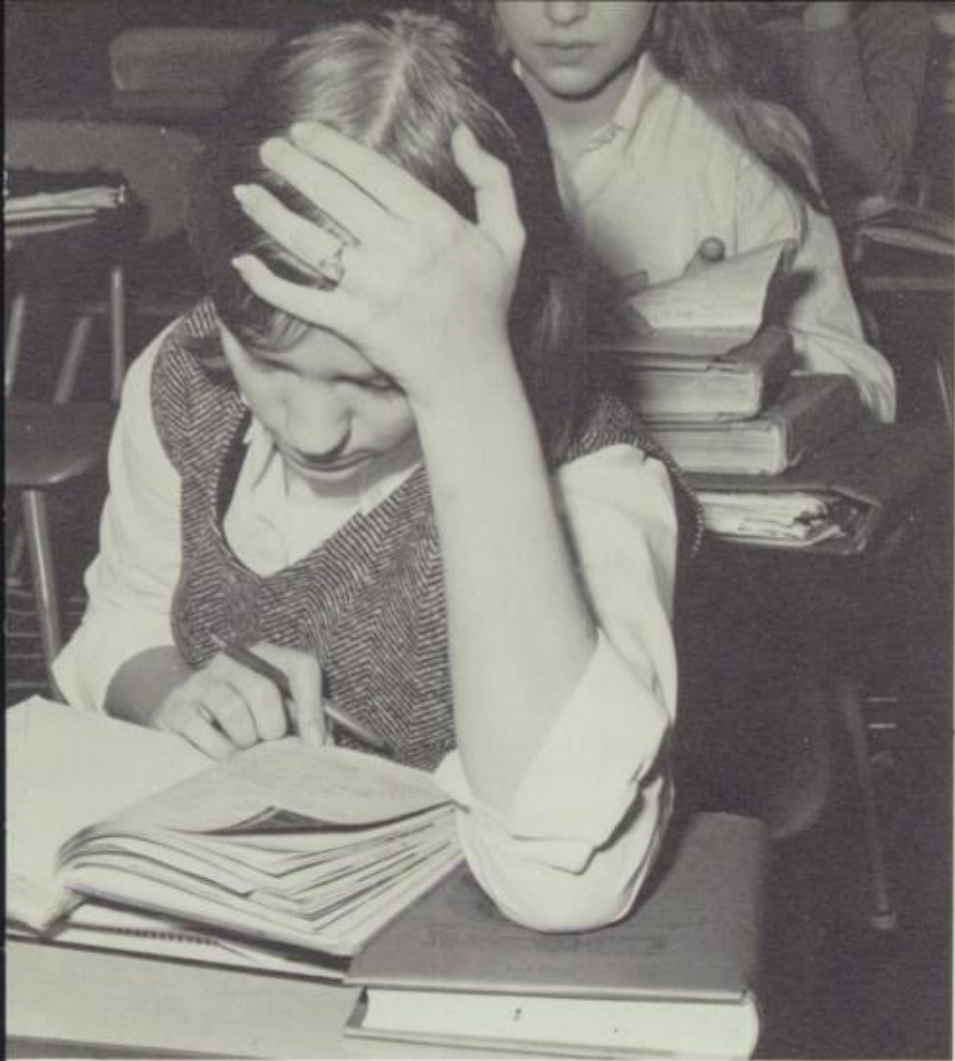

School is eight hours of

- letting out a yell of disgust because a teacher has just announced the marks for the report cards and you are getting a D, while you are positive your marks for the interval are all 75%'s with one, just one crummy 60
- complaining because Miss Blank didn't give any assignment and when she does, complaining because it's too much work
- getting paddled for livening up (at least so you thought) a boring subject
- acting like animals, at times, so that at least one sign that has hung on a wall at GAR is meaningful
- being thrown out of a class for acting like a child and then sticking out your tongue at the teacher in retaliation
- smirking because you cannot understand how a teacher could drag out the discussion on Chanukah for eight long weeks
- making a substitute miserable by telling her the lesson is on page 17, when a note has been left informing her that the class has covered up to page 289
- having permits signed and countersigned or sweating it out when caught without one
- pondering over a difficult lesson and feeling it's all just too much
- teacher-watching
- rushing back to class after lunch (this impulse wears off as one gets older)
- playing games such as "gimme some skin" and hitting as hard as you can to show friendship

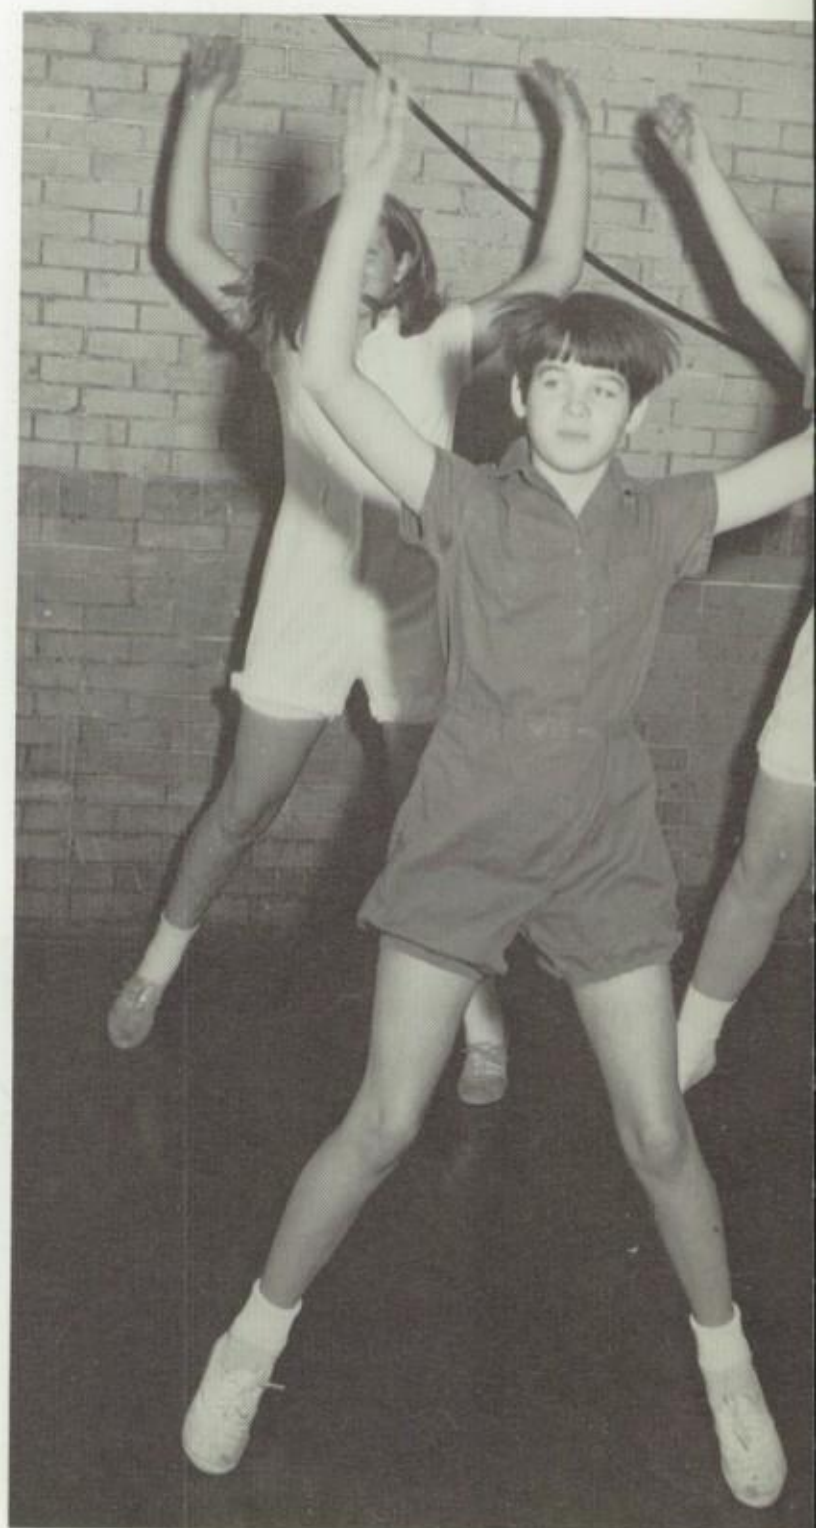

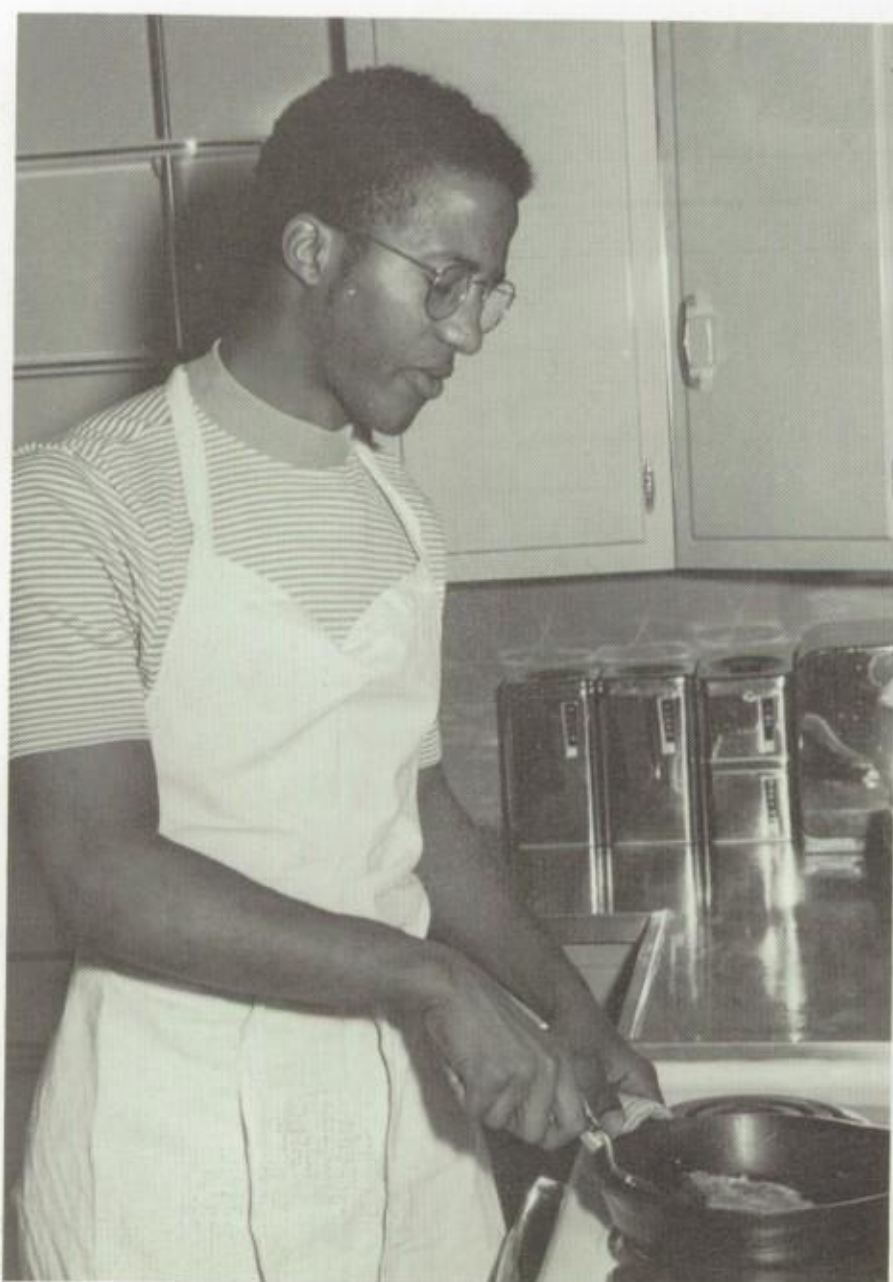

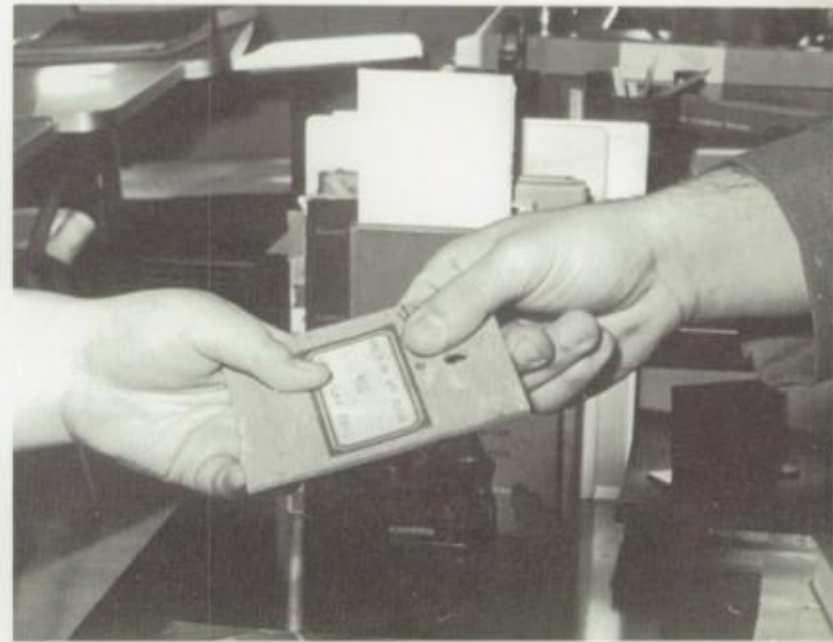

It has been said knowledge is power. Right. The boy who pushes away his pride to enroll in a homemaking class or the girl who forgets her reluctance for one period a week to excel in gymnastics, is mightier than any muscle bound bully or pampered little Lulu. And too, one who shuts off his mind from learning and never pays attention to any warning is gutless and a coward.

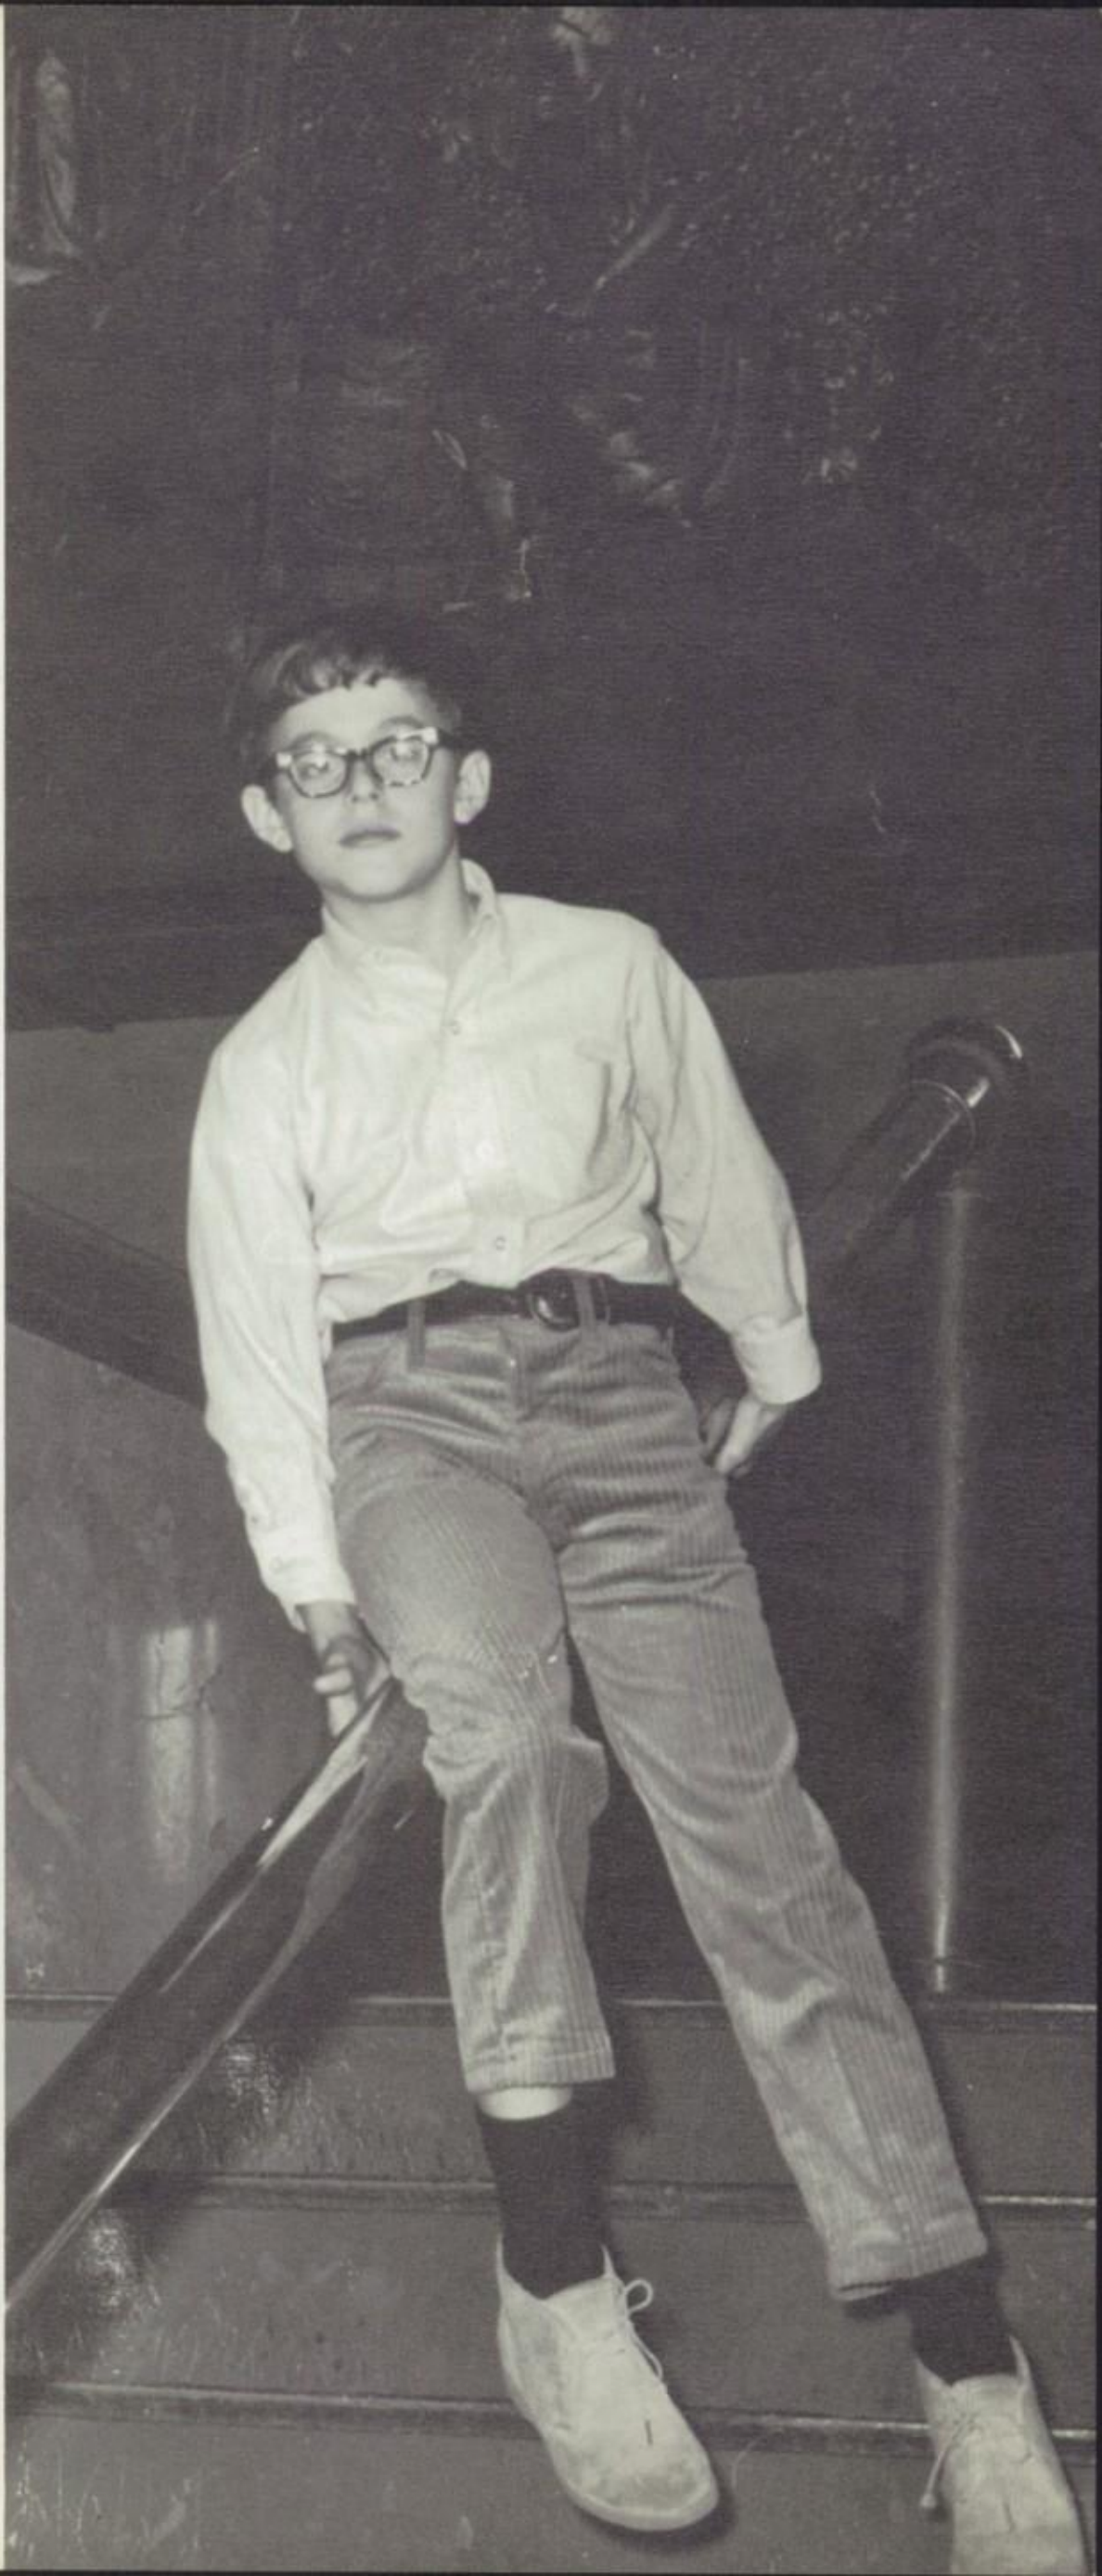

Lunch is served in the cafeteria three times a day. There the pupil who feels he has been cooped up in a beige, rose, or light green cube can blow his mind. He can, if he is of the cunning sort, get away with screaming at the top of his lungs, throwing paper on the floor, or displaying the art of graffiti on the worn oak lunch tables. He can legitimately chew gum, lick ice cream, talk to his girlfriend or her boyfriend, sing, dance, laugh out loud, go outside for air or stay inside and relax. The caf is a place where emotions are openly manifested.

Activity period is freedom. There are no classes except Gym, Civil Defense, and German I. This is when the student can do "his own thing." He can try to oblige all the everyone-must-attend announcements that appear in every morning's bulletin. Or he can ignore them by visiting favorite friends and teachers, daydreaming about last night, even roaming the halls, trying not to get caught without an activity slip. Most people find activity period a convenience; but there are some who say it is a poor excuse for not having dismissal at 2:30.

3:33. The day has ended. A sigh of relief is heard throughout the school and everyone rushes. Everyone is happy. Books are grabbed, coats are donned, curtains are drawn and the school begins to empty out. Only one landing is crowded — the place where friend meets friend. Now even that empties out and the janitorial staff starts their daily routine while would-be actors and actresses head for the stage and practice.

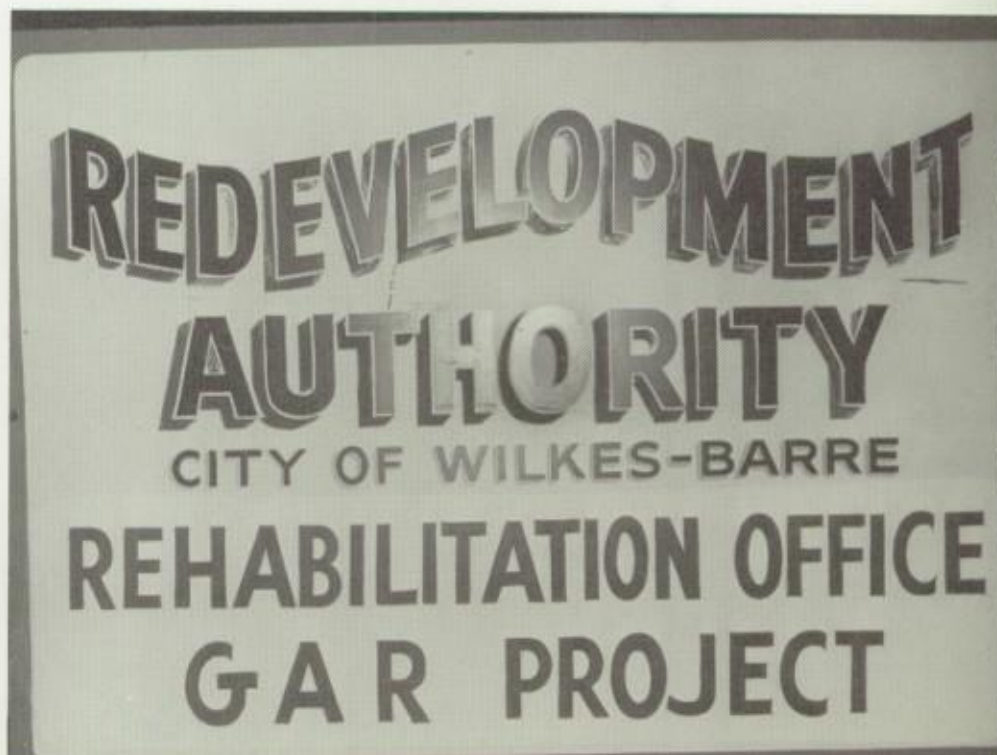

From center city, one goes up Market Street hill and turns right on Grant Street to arrive at G.A.R. between South and Lehigh. Across Lehigh Street is the office of the Redevelopment Authority's G.A.R. Project, which takes its name from the school. The project began in 1967 and should be completed by 1971.

The prime purpose of the program is to rehabilitate not to demolish. As the result of the project, G.A.R. High School will have a new parking lot, new sidewalks, improved sewer and gas lines, and newly paved streets.

The hockey field on Sherman Street formerly used for Physical Education classes and personal grudge fights will be a neighborhood park. Plans include setting out eight hundred trees in the project area. Thus G.A.R. and the neighborhood take a great step forward in the Bicentennial Year of Wyoming Valley, the forty-fourth year of the school.

Lest we forget, it is fitting that the school is a memorial to the Grand Army of the Republic, which was the organization of Civil War veterans, since it is situated in that part of the city where the streets are named for Civil War greats: Lincoln, Welles, Hancock, Grant, Sherman, Meade and Sheridan.

Activities

To be a part of G.A.R. one must belong. There are clubs, concerts, plays and publications. These and so many other activities make high school years a time of decision.

Berets, Batons, Saddle Shoes And Spats Enliven The Gridiron

There are four organizations at G.A.R. that work hard — really hard. They are the strutters or Grenadettes, advised by Miss Annette Barbini; the cheerleaders, who are advised by Miss Mary Ford, and the marching band and majorettes, directed by Mr. Agesino Primatic. Summer and fall are endless seasons for these people, trying to perfect new routines as entertainment at football games. They meet many obstacles, are criticized often and seldom praised for the color and spirit they definitely add. One big cheer for four great groups.

Piles Of Snow Greet Interested Parents

Wednesday, November 13th, 1968 followed a heavy snowfall. That was the date for parents to come to G.A.R. and hear good or bad reports about their children. The slush did not keep the parents away. It is a big affair for the older generation to meet those who are in loco parentis for their offspring between 8:25 and 3:33 each week day. Hence, the large turn out. Everybody comes to Parents' Night — brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, and even grandmas. The pattern of the evening changes little from year to year. It is anticipated by all except flunking students.

Evaluation—November 18–21

A 22-member committee of the Commission on Secondary Schools, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, conducted a re-accreditation evaluation of G.A.R. High School during the 3rd week of November. Monday evening, November 18, there was a reception and dinner in the cafeteria at which time school authorities and the G.A.R. faculty met and welcomed the committee. For three days the committee visited classes, conferred with teachers and pupils, scrutinized the building and read the self-evaluation studies prepared previously by the faculty.

The painting, new windows and other repairs authorized by the school board and done by the men pictured on the preceding page were appreciated by teachers, students and the evaluating committee.

A favorable report complete with commendations and recommendations was received in February. Mr. Maguire made the report available in the library for teachers who found it very interesting reading.

Guests at the top table of the dinner held in G.A.R. High School honoring the 22-member team evaluating the school for re-accreditation were, Attorney Thomas Tomalis, George Yanik, and Thomas F. O'Donnell, members of the Board of Education; Harold Jordan, assistant principal, G.A.R.; Walter C. Wood, city schools' superintendent; Louis S. Gabriel, principal, Woodbridge Senior High School, Woodbridge, N.J., chairman of the committee; Will F. Maguire, principal of G.A.R.; Attorney George B. Ritchie, member of the Board of Education.

Capp's Characters Imitated Sadie Hawkins' Day Remains

There had been rumors and rumors throughout the football season that the class of '69 would have to forego Sadie Hawkins' Day. The reports were false. We did dress up and parade around the halls admiring each other exuberantly. Most of the girls wore black skirts and white blouses peppered with red hearts. Boys wore blue jeans — or something. There were directives which outlawed hats, wigs, sunglasses etc.

The day passed quickly and it was soon time for the Seniors' last pep meeting. For some reason, what is usually the noisiest of all pep meetings turned out to be blah. This was in spite of the fact that the program was well planned and executed. Finally it was time for the Alma Mater which was sung without tears.

Camelot Comes Alive At New Type Gambol

R. Perkoski, in the mood for conversation; S. Sebastian, preoccupied.

Thanksgiving night each year a semi-formal prom called the Grenadier Gambol is held in the girls' gym at G.A.R. This year, the Gambol was held as always. Yet there were many innovations. Under the supervision of Mrs. Sindaco and inspired by the artistic talent of Neil Smith, the Blue and Gray staff surpassed all expectations. Candlelight added to the romantic theme of "Camelot and the Knights of the Grid-Iron".

The decorations were colorful, the Dynamics were fantastic, the night was just plain fun. The crowning ceremony took place early in the evening. Mr. Football was Bill Buss, guard and co-captain of the Grenadiers. Miss Chrysanthemum was Diane Balukonis, the tall, blonde, head majorette.

Praise to the Blue and Gray staff for attempting to alter a pattern and succeeding.

... and they are, the radiant Diane Balukonis and the uncomfortable Bill Buss.

Christmastide. From the moment the tree appeared, everyone had the holiday spirit. Up went vivid decorations designed, drawn and painted by Miss Readinger, Neil Smith and a host of helpers. The story they told was of the magic that changed awkward, lazy LEON into clever and successful NOEL. The Key Club trimmed the twenty foot tree. Less robust trees leaned precariously in homerooms.

Main Foyer Is Festive For Senior Girls' Tea

Christmas is a time of tradition and tradition at G.A.R. calls for the Senior Girls' Tea. On Wednesday, December 18, the gaily decorated foyer of the school was the center of attraction.

While the brass choir played familiar carols, the mothers and the other guests received corsages and were directed into the auditorium. There, Bonnie Belles, Barbara Buickus and Mr. Maguire addressed the group. The Garchoir then presented a delightful program to the theme of "A-Caroling We Go." Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Jordan presided at the tea tables.

Goals And Achievements Rating From Zero To 100

The calendar of the F.T.A. shows initiation, Christmas greeting cards, panel discussions, educational displays, tutoring in the Model Cities program, a visit to a college campus and the presentation of a gift to the school. The French Club had no clearly defined goal. They banded together because of their interest in the language of la belle France, but their achievements were comme ci, comme ca. The Debate Club is making haste slowly. They have spent more than half the year doing groundwork. They plan to debate with Coughlin, Meyers, and St. Ann's. Photography Club members are learning all procedures of camera work. They have entered photo contests and have made field trips. A dark room they lack, but no one will deny that they are with it. The Library Club is a service club. Its one social event was the Christmas party. Otherwise it's work, work, work, and books, books, books.

Homeroom Officers Total 180 Students

Being a homeroom officer is no sinecure. The representative, associate representative, secretary and bank cashier are expected to see to the banking, run errands, help substitute teachers, supervise, magazine sales, keep records, conduct morning exercises, draw shades, attend student council meetings and preside at homeroom meetings. They are indispensable to the homeroom teacher.

Club Crack-down Looms

In the '68-'69 school year, some clubs found it difficult to meet and to function. There is to be a revised school day next school year. Then, each organization will have to ask and answer these questions:

Has the club an overall purpose?

Has it a goal for the year?

Can it meet regularly?

After such evaluation those clubs which were formed for the sole purpose of having a group picture in the yearbook will disappear from the scene.

Key Club Is Heralded Number One In State

Mr. Cobleigh, adviser to the Key Club, keeps the members hopping. Proof of this is the long list of credits the organization has tallied. They cleaned up the school grounds before opening day and sponsored the mock election in October. Every month they have a luncheon at G.A.R.; go to the Barney Street workshop to entertain Cerebral Palsy victims; send some members to a Kiwanis meeting. They have worked with the G.A.R. Rehabilitation Authority; collected for the March of Dimes; sent stamps and string to Italy; planted trees for the P.P. and L. Small wonder they received a first place rating in the state from the official publication for Pennsylvania Key Clubs.

Y-Teens Sell Everything From Hoagies To Car Plates.

Both groups of Y-Teens are noted for their community work and their salesmanship. This year, the older group sold the tasty but messy donuts, Christmas bows, and classy "G.A.R. Grenadiers" car plates. They also collected candy and food for Christmas packages for soldiers in Vietnam. The younger set collected in the Multiple Sclerosis campaign and were given recognition for this by the sponsoring organization. They sold hunger-satisfying hoagies and stationery. Their ultimate goal is a trip in May. The Y-Teen officers pictured at the left are: Fr.-Soph., 1st Row: A. Hughes, ICC Rep.; C. Gatrell, V. Pres.; G. Guida, Sec.; M. Murray, Treas.; J. "Laugh-In" Kicks Off '69 Sales Campaign

To get the 1969 subscription drive underway, the Garchive Staff, on February 25th and 26th presented the "Garchive Laugh-In" with appropriate apologies to Rowan and Martin. It seemed to bomb out at Junior High assembly, but Senior High enjoyed the presentation almost as much as the cast did. Of the book itself, nothing will be said here. The reader can make his own judgment. The staff does take pride in the fresh approach to several sections.

Blue And Gray Raises Rate, Changes Format

Mrs. Sindaco and the group who crowd into the extremely small office near the girls' gym wanted desperately to have the '68-'69 volumes of "the eyes and ears of G.A.R." professionally printed. They settled for a finer grade of paper and a new electric typewriter. The staff raised the money needed for these improvements.

This year's editions had a neat appearance and a one-dollar subscription price. They also carried stale news, but this is the common fault of high school papers. Additional features included: more photo content, a senior and freshman couple of the month, and livelier art work.

With competition such as Coughlin's chic "Journal" these reporters had it tough. Not complaining about their restricted budget (out loud), the Blue and Gray editors made an attempt to show 'em.

Psychedelic Lights Feature Of The Student Day Program

Student Government at G.A.R. is vested in two Student Councils, one for Senior High and one for Junior High. Each homeroom has a representative and an associate representative at S.C. meetings. Whether Student Council has enough power or not is a debatable question. They do regulate dress, suggest changes in school procedure and conduct Student Day.

Student Day '69 was held on Lincoln's birthday. Abe would have marveled at the morning program with its psychedelic lights, its pop and soul music. He might also have marveled at how seriously the student teachers and student administrators took their assignments and how well the student body cooperated with them.

Honey and the Bees gave their rendition of "This Ole Heart of Mine."

Dramatists Present Three Cute Comedies

Two one-act plays, "Oddy's First Date" and "The Uninvited Ghost", proved that G.A.R.'s thespians had a good measure of talent. These were given in assembly and were well received by the student body. The response to the one big production was not so enthusiastic. Other schools in the region seem to have a big following for such ambitious productions as "Camelot" and "My Fair Lady", which involve both musical and dramatic gifts. It may be the time for G.A.R. to switch.

Small Crowd View Sr. Play

With a highly-acclaimed version of "Romeo and Juliet" playing downtown and television available in the comfort of their own homes, people stayed away from the evening performance of "Junior Miss". This was a pity as the drama club's presentation of the classic family-type comedy by Chodorov and Fields was well done. Junior High enjoyed the dress rehearsal in assembly two days before the evening performance.

Helen Dane carried the title role convincingly and her supporting cast was excellent. Bravos to Mr. Wise, the director.

Mr. Primatic and the orchestra chose lively numbers for their part of the evening's entertainment.

City Manager Wegner Visits School

Bicentennial Day, March 19, was planned by Mr. Cobleigh, G.A.R.'s Renaissance Man. In a special assembly program, Bob Zampetti explained the Bicentennial designs and presented a medal to Mr. Maguire. Mr. Frederick Wegner, City Manager, gave an excellent report on the city and valley and the potentials of both. He urged the young people to become aware of what happens in the government of their community.

Mr. Ralph Hazeltine, Director of the Wyoming Valley Historical and Geographical Society, presented an illustrated lecture entitled Looking Back at Our Town.

A choral group and Donald Pugh sang songs of a by-gone day. The cafeteria menu featured foods familiar to the early settlers.

The Key Club made awards to Junior High students for outstanding posters and displays.

The program was generally enjoyed, but a few made the usual comment, "That was a cool way to miss first period."

Seniors Show Up Jrs. In Heated Fun Night Clash

Fun Night lacked something. The seniors were interested and the crowd was small. The poor attendance may have been caused by the concert of Smokey Robinson and the Miracles held the same night, March 21, at King's Gym.

The faculty downed the seniors with the considerable help of Miss Juzwiak's student teacher, Mr. Robinson. The seniors topped the jittery juniors with a score of 81-68. There were routines by the strutters, cheerleaders and majorettes, loud band music, crazy costumes, wordy decorations and Charlie Chaplin (Jerry Donnini).

The seniors had announced that they would present "Bonnie and Clyde", but neither Bonnie nor Clyde made it. The Dynamics played for about one hour.

"Projection Seventy" was enjoyed by those juniors who planned it. The audience looked dazed by it all. Yes, Fun Night lacked something. It is called enthusiasm.

“Serenade To Spring” Introduces Season

One week after the vernal equinox, Spring was officially ushered in to G.A.R. with the annual concert featuring the Garchoir, the Concert Band and the Stage Band. Mr. Primatic and Mr. Umla had set up an excellent and varied program.

Two numbers by the Concert Band carried a special appeal for the G.A.R. audience: the Divertimento in G minor and the Bicentennial March, both composed by Mr. Primatic. The capacity audience had a most enjoyable evening.

Robert Goldstein, winner of Reserve Champion trophy at C.H.S., honorable mention at King's and first place at University of Scranton, will enter his project in the State Competition in Phila.

85 Enter Exhibits In Annual Science Fair

Champions and awards winners in the 13th Annual Science Fair of Wilkes-Barre City School District were named on March 18th following a morning of judging over 200 science exhibits by a panel of educators and scientists. An awards program was held in the auditorium of Coughlin High School. Mr. John Sulkoski, Mr. Walter C. Wood and Mr. Charles Hensley made remarks and extended greetings.

G.A.R. had 85 entries in the fair and totalled eight winners plus eight honorable mentions.

Robert Goldstein, G.A.R., was named Senior High Reserve Champion for his entry in the zoology competition "Drug Effect on Aggressive Behavior of Siamese Fighting Fish — Betta Splendens."

Local Newspapers Saw G.A.R. As A Rough Contender

Pre-season statements about G.A.R.'s '68 grid unit went something like this . . . "G.A.R. is inexperienced this year, but rangy and tough as nails. More importantly, they feel this could be their year and whipping jointures the likes of Valley West and Nanticoke Area would delight them no end" . . . "Coach Wasilewski considers anonymity a precious commodity. Overexposure, he feels, is something the Grenadiers can do without" . . . "The Grenadiers have plenty of size but lack the quickness to overcome blunders" . . . "Although G.A.R. has only six lettermen back from last year, they have enough talent to terrify every team they meet this season" . . . "Don't underestimate the 1968 edition of the G.A.R. Grenadiers. It might be a big mistake." It wasn't.

The 1968 team had its ups and downs — mostly downs. They finished with a dismal 3-6 record and ended up low in the Wyoming Valley Conference standings.

Grenadiers Hammer Dallas 21-0 In Opener

Januzzi (22) skirts around the end in the first game of the season.

G.A.R. rolled up more than 300 yards total offense in blasting Dallas, 21-0, Saturday, September 21st. Quarterback Zaklukiewicz paced the team to a 14-0 first period lead and the Grenadier defense held Dallas to 76 yards rushing, forcing eight punts by the Mountaineers.

The Grenadiers scored, the first time they got the pigskin. Joel Kislin, a tackle converted to fullback, rambled 27 yards and Zak went around end for the last 31 yards to cap the brief drive. Gene Roebuck kicked the extra point.

Mark Swenski took a 48-yard pass from Zak for the second score, and Ken Bradshaw pulled in a 21-yard scoring strike in the third period for the final score of the day. Roebuck converted both times.

Hilltoppers Drop Four Bounce Back Beating Plainsmen And Hawkeyes

W.S.C.C. 29, G.A.R. 14 — Coach Wasilewski's Grenadiers lit up the scoreboard in the closing minutes of the first quarter, when R. Caruso pounced on a Central fumble on the Queensmen's five-yard line. G.A.R. had punted the ball and it bounced off one of the Queensmen's deep backs. Quarterback Zaklukiewicz slipped between center and guard for the score from two yards out, with 2:13 showing. G. Roebuck added the PAT.

Central's offense started to jell at the outset of the second period only to have alert J. Smith pick off a Pisarcik aerial on his own 30-yard line. Smith set sail down the far side line and went 70 yards for the score. Again Roebuck made the PAT, his fifth straight. The second half was another story.

Nanticoke 27, G.A.R. 0 — The Grenadiers shocked the Trojans on the first play of the contest, when halfback M. Januzzi hit the left side of the line on a drive, veered to his right and sped 75 yards to the Trojan's 15-yard line. Four plays later G.A.R. turned the ball over to a hard-hitting Trojan defense. This was the Grenadiers' deepest scoring threat of the game. Nanticoke Area found G.A.R. up to the occasion in the initial quarter as the Grenadiers' line was tough to penetrate, but the Heights team was held scoreless.

Coughlin 37, G.A.R. 0 — Coughlin's line frustrated the Grenadiers all night, holding them to small gains of yardage in each passing or running attempt.

G.A.R. 20, Hanover 7 — G.A.R. won its second Wyoming Valley Conference game October 18th, coming from 7-0 deficit to dump the Hawkeyes 20-7, before a small crowd at Memorial Stadium. The Grenadiers reorganized at intermission and came back behind Zaklukiewicz to wear down Hanover with a solid ground attack. Hanover made five fumbles and lost the ball every time. Several interceptions also hurt the Hanover cause.

K. Johnston was the unsung hero for G.A.R., racking up an unofficial 76 yards in 18 carries, many of which were key elements in G.A.R. drives. The Grenadier touchdowns were scored by Zak, Swenski and Januzzi.

Lake Lehman 12, G.A.R. 0 — G.A.R., failing to get a first down in the first half of this battle in the freezing wind, finally got its offense rolling early in the third period. After a Lake Lehman punt the Grenadiers moved from their own 30 to the Knight's 36 before the spurt fizzled out and L.L. took over.

At the start of the final period G.A.R.'s K. Johnston broke through to block a McDermott punt with G.A.R. taking over on the Knights' 18.

J. Kislin, the monstrous fullback who had not carried the ball all afternoon, was finally given a chance to show his power and on five straight carries pushed the ball to the L.L. one. On the following play Zak was dropped for a nine-yard loss by a host of white jerseys to kill G.A.R.'s only scoring chance of the day.

G.A.R. 33, Plains 7 — Rushing performance by Swenski enabled the Grenadiers to pound out a 33-7 victory over Plains High before 1,182 fans at Meyers Stadium on November 1st. G.A.R. racked up its first TD by marching down the field in eight plays within three minutes after the opening whistle. K. Johnston hit paydirt when he ran over from the 6-yard line and Roebuck's placement kick was successful.

The Hilltoppers scored in every quarter but the third. It was an exciting way for the Grenadiers to make a comeback.

Wyoming Valley West 41, G.A.R. 6 — After a heavy snowfall on November 12th, the Valley West-G.A.R. game was postponed from November 15th to the 22nd. The snowfall also cancelled the Bonfire. The Grenadiers scored only once. These six points were acquired through the combined efforts of Januzzi, Swenski and Johnston. The Spartans tallied in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd periods, handing G.A.R. their fifth loss of the season.

Meyers 28, G.A.R. 6 — On Turkey Day, Swenski gave G.A.R. rooters something to cheer about when he scored on a 4-yard run with 2:35 left in the second period to put the first figures on the big scoreboard. Roebuck missed the placement.

The Mohawks came back to overhaul the Grenadiers scoring in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th periods. G.A.R.'s losing this one may have stemmed from the absence of backs Januzzi, Kislin and Zaklukiewicz.

Banquet Held At Irem Temple

The G.A.R. Booster club held its annual banquet Sunday, February 23, honoring the G.A.R. football squad, coaches, cheerleaders, band, majorettes, strutters and advisers. Jim O'Hora, assistant coach at Penn State was the main speaker. Professor W. Francis Swingle of King's College was toastmaster. George L. George is president of the club and George M. Livingstone was chairman of the banquet. The Pete Martino award went to William Buss. (See picture above.) This award is presented in memory of a former officer of the Booster Club.

Facets Of Fun And Excitement

Football isn't all calling signals and running 30 yards for a TD. Remember the strutting, cheering, twirling and the music to hear and sing to at each clash of teams. Pre-game and half-time activity is exhilarating and these faces are a part of it.

Cross Country Runners Break G.A.R. Records

During the 1968 Cross Country season, G.A.R. placed 8th in an invitational at Endicott, N.Y. The Hilltop team also took the number two slot in the Berwick Marathon, Thanksgiving Day. These runners placed: P. Boris, 3rd; R. Unger, 6th; B. Lewis, 7th; D. Zipko, 10th and E. Brasby, 11th.

Turning out outstanding performances throughout the year were Jim Rickard on the Varsity, Paul Boris who broke four G.A.R. records and Willard Morgan who broke one on the Junior High squad.

In the Ice Berg Olympics, runners from all over the state competed. J. Judge, one of Mrs. Wojnar's men, while placing second, broke the G.A.R. record for the two-mile run with a time of 10:28.6. In the 60 yd. dashes, the Morgan brothers placed third, Frank in the Varsity and Willard in the Junior High race. Also, the Jr. High relay team, T. Mike, J. Sivick, P. Boris, and

W. Morgan, placed second.

Other action during the season included F. Morgan's feat of breaking the record for the 60 yd. dash with a time of 6.7 seconds against C.H.S. B. John placed 4th out of 100 competitors in the 60 yd. high hurdles at the St. Francis Prep track meet in New York City.

Peoples Garner's MVP In Cage Tournament

"The People's Choice" may well be the nickname of the third Wilkes-Barre Invitational Basketball Tourney as the G.A.R. Grenadiers, led by Maurice Peoples, won top honors by upending a taller Pittston Area squad, 62-48, before a sparse crowd at Coughlin High School gymnasium December 28th, 1968.

In the title game, the Grenadiers took control from the start with their deliberate offense and completely stymied the running of the Patriots. Dale Rapson led the attack and the Hilltoppers stretched their margin to 11 points in the second stanza.

With the Patriots deploying a tight fullcourt press in the second half, Pittston Area came back to knot the score at 27 — all with 5:17 gone in the third period.

A quick goal by Rapson, a three-point play by Joe Letukas, and a goal by Gallagher stretched the G.A.R. lead back to a comfortable seven points. In the closing quarter an alert G.A.R. five took advantage to register several easy baskets. On the first day of the meet, the G.A.R. cagers beat the Coughlin team 72-66, enabling them to play for the championship.

G.A.R. City Champs 1st Half Tie With Mohawks In Second

It was a hot and heavy year for G.A.R.'s cagers. Pre-season exhibition games netted these scores: West Scranton 72 — G.A.R. 61, G.A.R. 94 — Marymount 42, Dunmore 75 — G.A.R. 71, G.A.R. 63 — St. Nicks 51. The Grenadiers beat every opponent in first-half loop action except W.V.W. and Nanticoke Area. G.A.R. ranked first in the City and third in the valley. This record was beyond expectations for a team from a nonjointure school.

The second stanza of play found the Hilltopper's strength fizzling out. However, their fiery attitude was apparent on G.A.R.'s compact court when a rumble broke out while playing Nanticoke. A few faces were slapped, but luckily no one was injured. The outcome of the latter half was a 4-4 record, a tie for the city championship, and a 4th place rating in the final league standings.

Season notes: Dale Rapson wrapped up the scoring title in the W.V.L. Dale hit for 375 points and a 23.4 per game average.

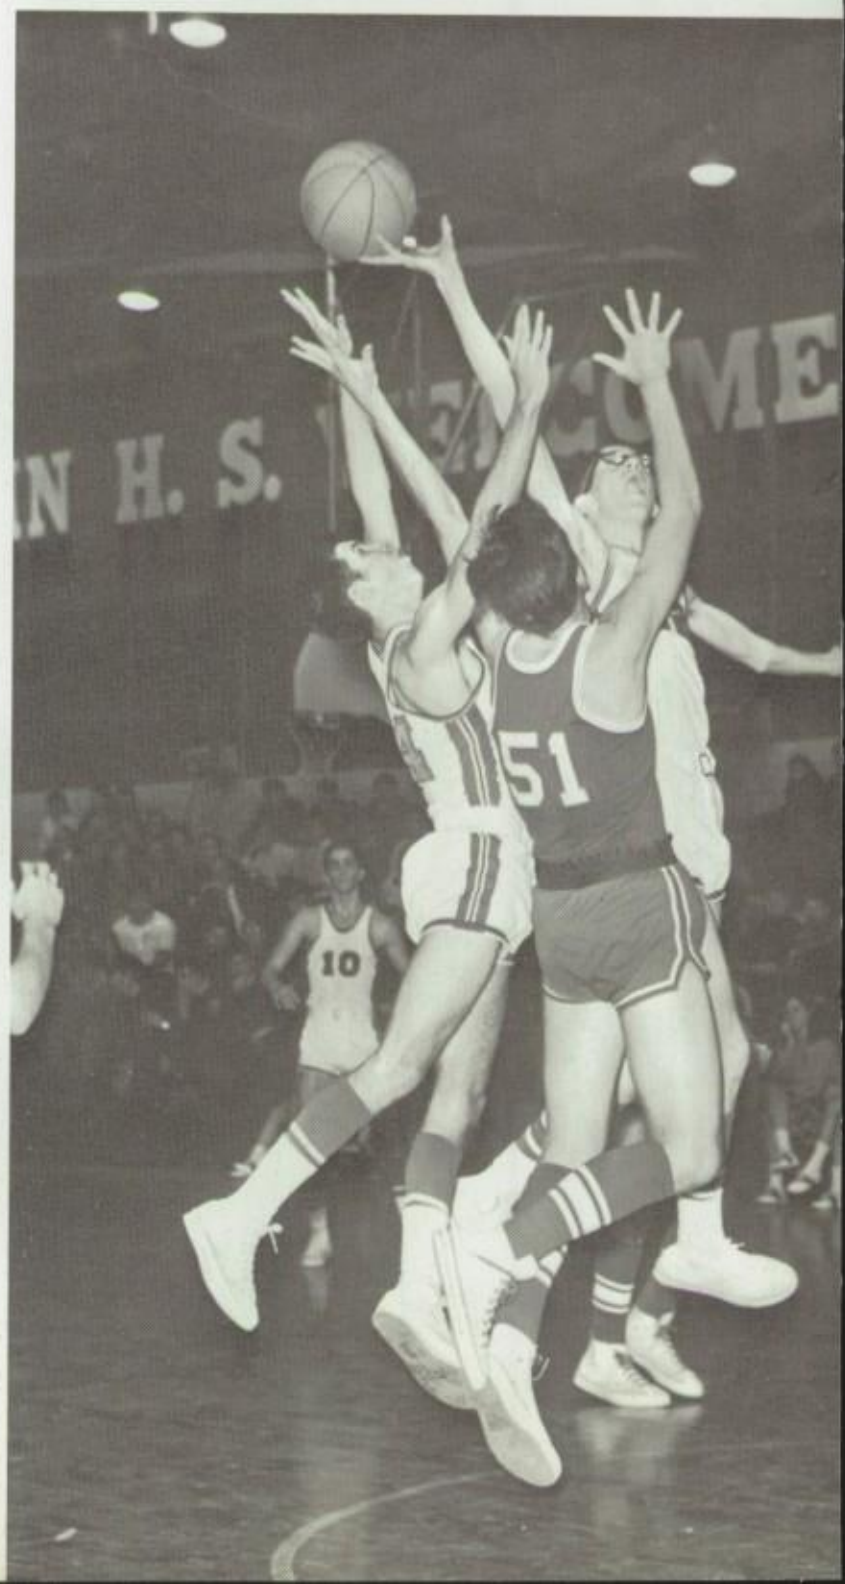

G.A.R. could have declared to compete in the Class B category of the district playoffs, and many fans and reporters feel they would have been a winner in that circuit.

After naming them to their all-scholastic squad, the Sunday Independent said this: "G.A.R.'s scoring duo of Rapson and Peoples, the latter a second-team choice last year, are a welcome addition to any unit. Rapson is the smallest member of the team at 6'.

Peoples is a real leaper and can sweep the boards. He was not a stickout shooter from the outside, but knew how to go to the hoop when it counted. He piled up 294 points for an average of 19.6 per outing."

Girls Make Good Showing In Wyoming Valley League

In their second year of league competition, the girls' basketball team placed third in the Wyoming Valley League and won the mythical title of city champions. Bolstered by five returning veterans, the Grenedettes showed good balance in both scoring and rebounding. The girls were hard-working and high-spirited and although they suffered defeat four times, they had confidence in themselves and never gave up in a game.

In the annual foul-shoot contest, three members of the team, E. Morrissey, S. Pomanek and E. Horutz, placed G.A.R. second in a field of 21 competing schools.

Varsity 1st Row: K. Fedastion, M. A. Murray, M. A. Butruce, E. Morrissey. 2nd Row: M. S. Pomanek, C. Seidel, Co-captain; N. Drayton, Co-captain; B. Buickus.

Sallitt Ends Coaching As Kislin Wins Honors

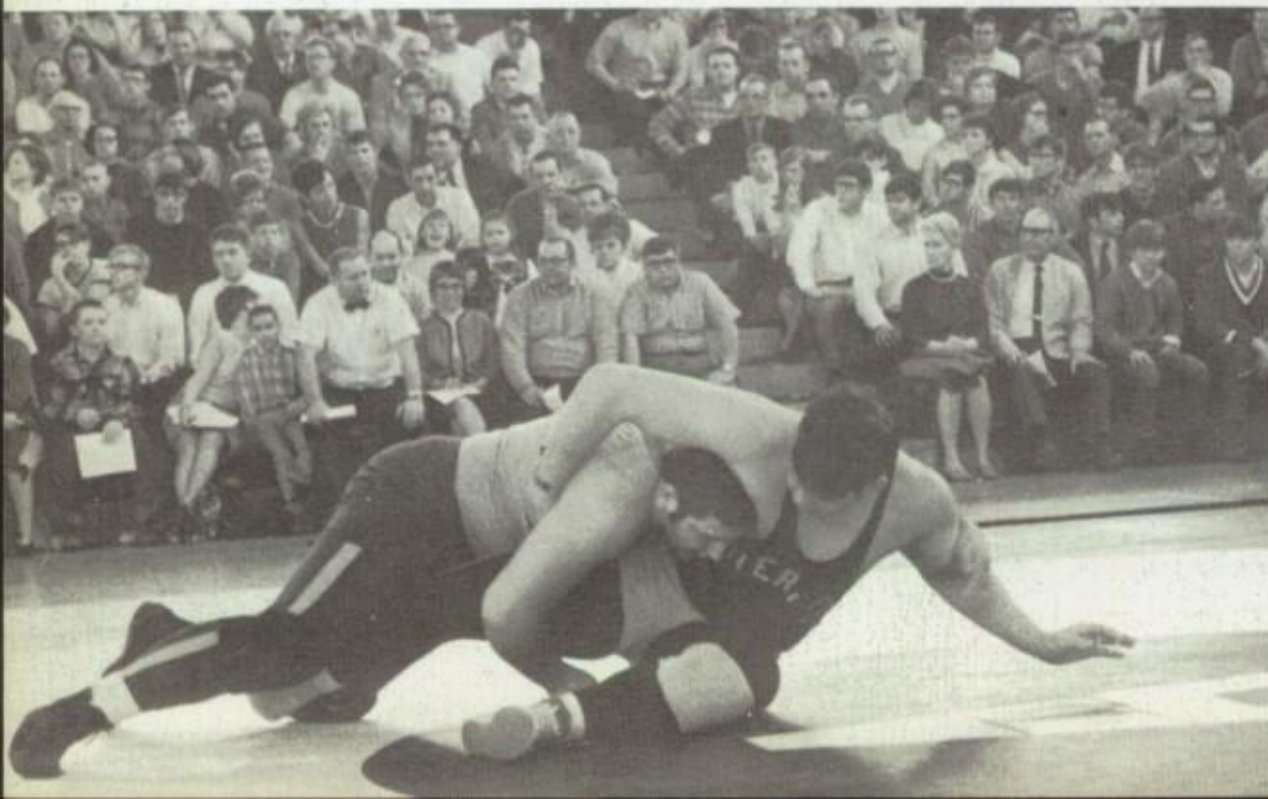

Al Sallitt will retire as head wrestling mentor after eleven years of coaching G.A.R. grapplers. Since 1958, Sallitt has seen 30 of his boys win district titles, 5 take regional honors and one, Yogi Michael, a state crown. His teams have won seven city and one conference championships.

This last season was a disappointment to him. The team suffered from both external and internal problems. They were plagued by an anti-wrestling movement, by injuries, inexperience and lack of ambition. All of this resulted in a 1-6 record and caused G.A.R. to fill slot #7 in the final league standings.

However, there was one bright spot — Joel Kislin, who overcame his "Chulada complex" and became 2nd-best heavyweight in the state.

Inexperience Hampers Girls' Hockey Team

Miss Annette Barbini and the twenty-five girls, who ventured out to play field hockey this year, had a disappointing season. The team did not win a game. However, they did tie with Abington Heights and held Dallas, Lake Lehman and Coughlin (twice) to one goal. The 1969 hockey team is looking forward to a happier record.

Seniors

To be a senior was a new experience. Suddenly one realized that he is a real somebody approaching the end of his high school years. The class of 1969 makes claim to many somebodies.

November '68 Sees Januzzi Elected Class President

Senior class elections came late in the fall. They were held Thursday, November 7th, 1968. Being a class officer is an honor, everybody realizes, but what about the sweat that goes into planning senior activities, picking reliable committee chairmen, and answering to, among others, Mrs. Hilburt, Mr. Maguire and Mr. Bartish.

Michael Januzzi ran against former junior class president John Margo and won, making Margo vice-president. Ann Marie Macri filled the secretarial position and John Zaklukiewicz took on again his junior year office of treasurer. The mantle orator for the senior class was Ted Sod.

The senior class officers handled their classmates of 1969 with a considerable amount of finesse. In these times of student revolt elsewhere, the officers and class chose to follow the pattern of G.A.R. traditions.

The Class Of 1969

The class of 1969 designate themselves as unusual. This class had two dominant types in its composite personality. There were the "I don't care" people and the "Why not?" people. There were the two extremes of the A+ students and those who just about made it, with a lot of good people in between. Some of this graduating class were pleased with all that happened at G.A.R. and others could not be pleased by anyone or anything. So many of the class were fastidious, lacking in sentiment, and constantly complaining, yet doing nothing to change what bothered them.

This class was at once the heir and victim of tradition. When November arrived and with it increased concern that there would be no Sadie Hawkins day, a few 69er's went to bat for it and gained the day. A few, always a few, did what had to be done. A minority decorated for the Junior-Senior Prom, planned Fun Nite, and cooperated in magazine and candy sales. The leaders were scarce but the discontented followers were myriad.

The thoughts and purposes of this class were turbulent. Everyone was discovering himself and what he wanted for himself. All wanted to be part of the up-tight generation but not all made it. All wanted to be recognized but only some felt the thrill of that success.

There were many strivings toward novelty and change, but not many such aspirations were followed through. Plans were hindered by tradition or lost though lack of drive. Cliques played a major role in this class. The separate factions never got together — they just repelled or ignored each other.

The class of '69 followed the usual pattern of G.A.R., but we were different enough, we thought, to be considered exceptional, rare, unique, off beat and unusual.

Administration

Each day sixty-eight varied personalities come to G.A.R. to teach. They instruct, we learn and they keep on learning. The Faculty — what complicated teaching machines they are!

School Board Sanctions Repairs Worth $135,000

For school directors and administrators of the Wilkes-Barre City School District 1968-1969 will be a year to remember. Starting with the first day of the fiscal year there were decisions on repairs to be made before the evaluations of the three city high schools. Headquarters were changed from North Washington Street to South Main. Long-range planning on the new Flood elementary school and on the fate of outmoded elementary buildings had to be made. Routine matters could not be neglected. Then there was the recurring question of Unit Nine or Unit Seven, still to be resolved. Implementing the decisions of the school board, supervising instruction, adjusting curriculum and the myriad other problems of running a school district are entrusted to the top administrators, superintendent Wood, Mr. Peel and Mr. Chesney. In these days it takes dedication to the public good for a man to serve in such a demanding role.

Challenging Role Filled Firmly And Fairly By WFM

Mr. Maguire will remember 1968-69 as an eventful year. School opened in September in the midst of repairs inside and out, followed by the painters and the installers of new windows. Then there was the boiler conversion uncompleted before some very cold weather arrived. The evaluation went well and the report of the evaluating committee was favorable. The usual pattern of life at G.A.R. plus long-range planning and day-to-day problems filled every minute. Signs of the times were an underground newspaper (nipped after one edition); one full-day symposium on drugs; and refractory students who found the closed day too confining.

WFM and HCJ are the best known sets of initials in G.A.R. Mr. Jordan, assistant principal, pictured on the next page, shared the trials and triumphs of the year.

This is the end. Stop. You can laugh or cry, scream or stamp your feet, but remember what the '69 Garchive has said and shown. Think. Think of all the patterns presented. Think of the tradition that is G.A.R. Change does not come often, and when it does, it is hard to cope with. Pause. These are the patterns of G.A.R., and they will stay the same for a long time.

all the luck in the world to a real meat kid
I had lots of fun with.

Brief,
 Good Luck
 on your future years. Keep the smile we have now and be sure to succeed

Jerry,
 Lots of love to my bestest friend. Always stay as nice as you are, and never forget all of our rights

See you next year.
